Full description

Embark on a 4-day journey through Sri Lanka's hill country, rooted in the island's colonial past and the history of its world-renowned tea.

Day 1 explore the vast, emerald-green tea plantations, where you'll witness the artistry of the tea pluckers at work on the rolling slopes.

Day 2 deepens this exposure, allowing you to walk the trails between restored, luxurious colonial-era bungalows—often referred to as the Ceylon Tea Trails—and soak in the breathtaking vistas of the 'Golden Valley of Tea.'

Day 3 is a sensory exploration at a working tea factory, like the Dunkeld Tea Factory. Here, trace the fascinating manufacturing process from fresh leaf to dried brew. The highlight is a tea tasting session, where a resident tea planter guides you through the distinct profiles of various Ceylon teas, from robust black tea to delicate white tea.
